DETAILED ACTION

1. Amendment filed on 05/05/2006 has been entered.
2. Claims 1,3-7,9-14,16 are presented for examination.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 05/05/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

According to applicant's remarks, the remarks do not include a relevant argument. Lines 1-2, applicant said "holding voltage of at least about .9 volts". Lines 6-7, applicant said "holding voltage would be .8 volts".

As discussed above, this applicant's argument is improper, and the same reference for rejection this office action, which has been used to reject in last rejection office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

5. Claims 1,3-7,9-14,16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lowrey (Pub. U.S. Patent No. 2004/0113137).

The applied reference has a common Assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

bbbbb Regarding claims 1, 6, Lowrey discloses an apparatus (Figure 4) comprising:

Regarding claim 1, Lowrey discloses a method comprising:

Forming a phase change memory element having a holding voltage that is at least 80 percent of the threshold voltage of the element and holding voltage greater than about .9 volts ([0120], phase change element has threshold voltage is about 1.2 volts, holding voltage is about 1 volts, it is greater than .9 volts and about 80% of the threshold voltage of element. Hence, it overcomes present claim invention).

Regarding claim 3, 9, 16, Lowrey discloses forming a phase change memory element to have a threshold voltage that does not vary by more than 10 percent with programming currents varying as much as two times ([0032], [0036]).

Regarding claims 4-5, 7, 10, 13-14, Lowrey discloses forming a phase change memory element including a phase change material (Figure 3, 220) between a pair of electrodes (Figure 3, 230, 210, [0037]), and forming a phase change material with a lower electrode of titanium silicon nitride ([0038]).

Regarding claim 6, Lowrey discloses an apparatus (Figure 4) comprising:
a phase change memory element (Figure 4, 130) to be read ([0032]) with a voltage greater than or equal to the threshold voltage of the element and to have a holding voltage that is at least 80 percent of the threshold voltage of element ([0120], threshold voltage is 1.2v, and holding voltage is 1 volt, hence the holding voltage at least or more than 80% of threshold voltage of phase change memory element).

Regarding claims 11 Lowrey discloses an apparatus (Figure 20) comprising:
a processor (Figure 20, 865) ; and a phase change memory element having a holding voltage that is at least 80 percent of the threshold voltage of the element and holding voltage greater than about .9 volts ([0120], phase change element has threshold voltage is about 1.2 volts, holding voltage is about 1 volts, it is greater than .9 volts and about 80% of the threshold voltage of element. Hence, it overcomes present claim invention).

Regarding claims 12, Lowrey discloses the wireless interface including a dipole antenna ([01333]).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
